This Week's Focus

Reading-

This week we reviewed retelling a story, and making connections. We also learned what an inference is and how to make inferences using our schema + clues.

Writing-

This week we began to publish our second writing piece. The students have been working hard to rewrite and fancy up their writing.

Math-

This week we reviewed telling time to the hour, counting on, finding missing numbers, and writing flip flop facts for our math equations.

Science -

This week we learned about the different forms of energy. We learned why sound, light, and heat energy are important to our everyday lives.
